WHO WE ARE

Cokel's environmental specialists have the experience and project knowledge to ensure compliance during construction activities, reclamation and remediation operations. We have a highly skilled team who have been involved with environmental inspection, reclamation, and environmental planning. Our team consists of agrologists, biologists, aquatic professionals, vegetation specialists, wildlife biologists and reclamation specialists.

ENVIROMENTAL SERVICES

Cokel's environmental services team is here to help solve your complex natural resource challenges in a cost effective way. We are a full service company who can assist with environmental assessments, abandonment, decommissioning, remediation and reclamation needs. Our site assessments are comprehensive; we assess projects both virtually and onsite to ensure you are meeting or exceeding environmental and regulatory requirements. Qualitative and quantitative data is gathered by accredited professionals to support applications and to comply with regulatory conditions. Our field based solutions reduce regulatory uncertainty and costs, while saving time.
